

Senior Design Self-Assessment:

As in the Fall semester, I believe I have demonstrated drive, discipline, and perseverance in developing this project. The completion of my Senior Design 2 requirements proved to be more difficult (as expected) than my Senior Design 1 requirements, as I had to implement the actual project. I have managed to successfully all assignments while also juggling other commitments this semester.

A weakness in my work ethic that has unfortunately persisted from the fall semester is insufficient meetings with my advisor. While I did ultimately complete the project to satisfaction, I failed to leverage Dr. Annexstein's expertise sufficiently while building my capstone. In the workplace, I must ensure I improve on this attitude and take full advantage of the expertise provided by mentors.
